Transforming pain into power

The Maggie Oliver Foundation supports survivors of childhood sexual abuse and exploitation to turn the pain of their abuse into power. We shine a light on injustice and give a voice to those so often left powerless,.

Emotional Support

Our listening ear phonenumber provides adult survivors with:

- regular scheduled phone calls with one of our trained ambassadors
- speaking to the same person throughout any engagement with us to remove the need to repeat yourself and to facilitate a trusting relationship
- support to develop coping strategies
- a safe place to be heard.

Transforming pain into power

The criminal justice system can be daunting, opaque and is often not fit for purpose in helping victims and survivors to obtain the justice they deserve.

Legal Advocacy

Our expert team can help you to:

- liaise with statutory services, including the police, especially if communication has broken down
- ensure your rights are protected under The Victim's Code
- access legal support
- signpost for advice on CICA compensation claims
- share your story with trusted media partners when all other routes have failed.
